Here students are taught to work by touch and to use all kinds of tools under water. Conditions here are purposely made difficult so that when the students are on their own they will have confidence. For example, Hudson river mud gives the water the constituency of black paint. Yet student divers work in it without lights. When accepted for training, a man is given a submersion test to discover any weakness. A claustrophobe might be totally unaware of such tendency until he finds himself locked up in a suit on the bottom of the river.

Members of the officers' class at the salvage school are pictured around the diving tank. One student is going down to do some underwater welding and burning. Divers also learn to build bulkheads underwater, splice cables, rig all kinds of tackle, and do practically everything that skilled mechanics do topside.

Right: Hanging from the rafters to ber, are some of the suits worn by the student divers. Be-low: Divers bob low: Divers bob around a float as they practice air control. Divers can regulate both the intake and outlet air valves. Control of these makes it possible for the div-er to remain stato remain sta-mary at the required level. He valves, and send him shooting up to the surface. Be-cause of this sudden decrease in pressure he would be in danger of an attack of the dreaded "bends" — bubbles of gas in the blood.

The comic note creeps in now and then, even in the grim catalogue of the year's accidents. A few ludicrous examples from the dies of the National Safety Council indicate what vaudeville-like mishaps can happen.

Residents of Cocoanut Grove, Fla., were mildly surprised one day when their morning mail was delivered by mailman who, of all things, wasn't wearing any pants. It wasn't the heat, the pantsless postman explained. He'd merely fallen off his bicycle and landed in an anthill. And, he added with simple pride, even when the United States postal servates gets ants in its pants, the mail must go through!

Loyal comic strip fans were goggle eyed one day when Connie, of "Terry and the Pirates," drove a car up and over an opening bridge. ."Of course, it could only happen in the funnies," they told themselves. But a 17-year-old Milwaukee, Wis., youth did it in real life. He drove up the rising leaf of the Sixth street bridge, made a graceful 18-foot arc over the gap, then pancaked on the alanting span on the other side. The car was damaged, but the driver was unhurt.

It is described in the Bible that the lilies of the field toil not, neither do they spin. But Rancher Walter Wynhoff of Wilbur, Wash., is no lily. Engineer Corps Has Only Half Accidents Pattern No. 8465 is in sizes 9, 11, 13, 17 and 19. Size 11 takes 514 yards 29-inch material. 9 yards braid or ric-rae. Of Private Industry

The army's corps of engineers has achieved a reduction of 45 per cent in accident frequency and 31 per cent in accident severity below that of private construction.

As compared with the accident rates for the five-year period, 1936 to 1940, it is estimated that the engineers' safety program during the past two fiscal years has saved more than 1,000 lives, averted 34,908 lost-time injuries, and prevented the loss of 6,306,374 man-days, with the saving in wages of workers amounting of 6,306,374 man-days, with the saving in wages of workers amounting to $46,604,104.

Regulations of the corps, rigidly adhered to, require that all lost-time accidents on construction projects over which the corps has jurisdiction be reported. The statistics so gathered, comprising the greatest mass of construction accident statistics and case histories ever assembled, have shown what practices cause the accidents, thereby enabling the engineers to take preventive measures.

Strict Code Enforced.

Strict Code Enforced.

When the army's construction program was expanded in 1941 to the greatest the world has ever known, specific uniform safety requirements were established by the engineers and compliance enforced in all construction contracts.

Outstanding among the requirements were those providing for mobile first aid stations; central infirmaries staffed with trained nurses under the supervision of one or more full-time physicians on all projects where a thousand or more workers were employed; the employment of a full-time safety engineer on all similar projects, and the mainte-similar projects, and the mainte-nance of a first aid log at all field stations and infirmaries.

The current program is placing the most stress on the proper use of heavy construction equipment which, heavy construction equipment which, although responsible for but 25 per cent of the total injuries, causes up to 52 per cent of the time lost in all accidents on construction proj-ects.

Billeting Officer

Notwithstanding the fact that we informed our readers last week that we were washing our hands of this excessive rent for inadequate quarters for military personnel in a FEW places in Grenada, we were officially informed from Camp Headquarters that a Billeting Officer HAD been selected, but that he had to get the matters with which he was formerly concerned straightened out before he could begin his new duties as Billeting Officer. It seems that it is, therefore, assurwithin a few days or weeks the camp will set up a bilieting office with a competent man in charge. Things rhould pick up then. Not from official information, but from matters that I have "picked up" I believe the Air Base already has an officer acting in that capacity.

All I know about a Billeting Officer is what I learned in France 25 years ago, where his duties were select the best hay loft for the soldlers to sleep in. I think, however, that a Billeting Officer for the camp, when/if appointed, will have to aprove the house or hotel where a soldier stays with the soldier's wife, also ve the rent that he paid. I further understand that the Billeting Officer is governed more by the rule of reason than by the hard and fast rules set up by the Rent Control department of the OPA. In short, the Billeting Officer will not necessarily approve rents that have received the approval of the OPA. This Billeting Officer can, I understand, overcome the so-called "emer-

I hope, for the good name of Grenada, that EVERY-ONE who is unreasonable in rental charges to soldier personnel will reduce rents to a reasonable figure so that the new soldiers now pouring into this area will, in the future, be walking advertisements for Grenada. I hope also that the appointment of the Billeting Officer will not be unnecessarily delayed.

Pay Them A Salary

Under the archaic laws of the State of Mississippi, the county supervisors have to go in the back door to receive their just compensation. They are allowed a per aliem for attending meetings of the board and a per aliem for inspection of roads. A maximum yearly amount is allowed the supervisor in each of the several classes of counties. In Grenada county, the supervisor is alof counties. In Grenada county, the supervisor is allowed a maximum of $1,200.00 a year. No provision in the law is made for paying him for inspecting land offered for security for loans, no provision to pay him for barsaining about buying lumber, nor is there any provision for paying him for either of the other many duties that he performs. Just "attending meetings," and "impecting roads." Like every other officer in the U. S. government, state, district, county or ity, the supervisor draws the maximum amount allowed him by law. Yet he is the only one who is forced (in order to get ney earned) to resort to the fiction of inspecting roads. In our county, the supervisor usually draws about 2 days for attendance and 18 days for inspecting self would no doubt admit that he does not spend 18 full days inspecting roads, yet few people would deny that he does earn, in his various capacities, at least the $100.00 that he receives.

Uncle Peter Carew, the faithful old janitor in the court house in Grenada, is paid a straight salary, so is court house in Grenadh, is paid a straight salary, so is the jailor, so is the tax assessor, and so is the office deputy sheriff. Men working under the supervisor usually receive straight salaries. Nearly every person, except those self-employed, receive definite salaries and do not have to beat the devil around the bush to get their pay.

It is to be hoped, therefore, that the next legislature will amend the archaic law concerning the pay of county supervisors—the most important officers in the State—and enact a law that the supervisor shall receive a straight salary for his work, so that he will not have a straight salary for his work, so that he will not have

Save The Money

One of the best things that the incoming State leg-

One of the best things that the incoming State legislature could do would be to invest the huge surplus, now lying idle in the treasury, in U. S. War securities.

The government is urging individuals to buy stamps and bonds against the day when hard times comes, to save up for a rainy day. The State is nothing but a group of individuals. What is good policy for the individual is a good policy for the State. The State, like the individual, will see some tough times, after the war. Therefore, it is most timely that this huge surplus be layed aside so that, when times get had, the state will have a large back log to take care of its obligations.

I understand that Hon. W. A. Winter, next representative from Grenada-Montgomery counties, is going to introduce a bill for this purpose.

thing is done about establishing an offor the Billeting Officer of Camp McCain, and unless this office really FUNCTIONS, I have authoritative information, right from the "feed box", which shows the low down on the efforts of the local OPA to correct bad situations to interest its superiors in Jackson and Atlanta, and interest the military authorities, and the messy buck passing and inaction of the latter, I am goig to publish the information that I have.

If so, somebody's ears will burn and, if the bee that I place on them does not sting, it's not my fault.

Next week, we hope either to make personal contact with those who are delinquent, or mail them a statement. Following a reasonable time for response, we are going to cut off all who are behind,

While we have not reached a positive decision on the matter, we are seriously contemplating adopting the same subscription policy as the Commercial Appeal: that is (after our list is complete) accept NO new subscriptions after, say January 15th, unless and until we drop an old subscriber—the only exception to be men in service. We are not trying to get smart and uppity, but we are faced with a common problem, insufficiency of help. In our recent revision of the mailing list, we added somewhere near 200 new subscribers. With our slow equipment, each 100 new paeprs printed means about two man-hours of work in printing, folding, wrapping

The "Fatmouth" Of The World

The country negro has a word for it-the "fatouth," or the fellow who is a sap, the fellow who always has to pay the freight for the more astute men about him, the fellow who always ends up with the "buck" in his hands, the fellow who always grabs for

Is the United States of America to be the "fatmouth" of the world after this war as it was after World War No. 1, when we generously cancelled the huge debts of everybody, including Germany, when we, like a drunken sailor on leave, did not seek to get any of the spoils of war, when, for instance, we permitted Japan (only a token ally) to get possession of islands which today will cost us billions of dollars and tons of blood to capture? Will we repeat this grandioeloquent gesture again? It looks so, if we read between the lines and see the altruistic motives which seem to actuate our

Today, and for the past two years, we have been pouring money, vital materials and valuable manpower into the construction of hundreds of sirfleids and ports to which we hold no more title than I hold to the court house in Grenada or to the state house in Jackson. The United States, of course, holds 90-year leases on certain air fields close to our shores; but, with the increased raddi of operation of airplanes, the far flung bases, to which we hold no title, are about as valuable to us now as the closed ones were at the beginning of the war. It seems to me that NOW is the time for the United States to secure perpetual rightst of ingress and egress at the where we have spent our money so pridigally.

The United States is expending its petroleum reserves with liberal hands while the reserves of our present allies (but future competitors, and, perhaps, future enemies) are being hoarded. Almost literally speaking, we have been transporting an immense volume of high octane gasoline to points within the shadow of refin-

If the far flung bases are valuable now during a war, they should be retained by us, for they certainly will be more valuable during any future war, when by ager range planes the world will have shrunk still further. With the Mediterranean cleared, the oil reserve of our Allies in the Middle East and elsewhere should be drawn on to the limit. Civilias in North Africa should not get more American gasoline than our own citizens get. We should become realistic in this war, and should send a realistic committee to the peace

Dealing with selfish states the securing of concessions for their own nations, the United States should not send, as it did in 1918, men actuated by, lofty, if impractical ideals. We should send hard-boiled men to give and take (and mostly "take"),

MAN'S FINEST PARD AND FRIEND

Yes, I believe that of all the inhabitants of the Animal Kingdom, the DOG is man's finest and best friend—A man's best friends may give him the cold shoulder, his own people may disown him and he may become a tattered, ragged BUM with nowhere to lay his head, but if he has a dog for a PARD, that dog will never turn against him nor for-sake him and will guard him even with his very life.

He Will Starve With You

A man's dog will go cold, wet and even starve with him if necessary if he can only be near his master. A man's dog will take abuse, harsh words and all manner of ill treatment and still not forsake his master. Some time it is hard to discern as to who are your genuine friends on account of so much deceit and flattery, but if you have a dog for a Pard, you can bet your last dollar that is it genuine—

YOUR GENUINE PARD IS DESERVING

If you have a dog for a PARD, who you know has a genuine interest in you, it be-hooves you so be kind and generous with him and see to it that he gets the proper bal-anced diet and gets it regular.

WE HAVE IT FOR YOU

We have an immense stock in our store today on sale at a real low price—PARD DEHYDRATED, which is made of selected fresh meat by-products and other proven health foods. It is nutritionally balanced to provide all the food essentials your dog needs for glowing health. In SWIFT's scientifically controlled process of dehydration, the food values and appetite appeal of PARD are carefully protected.

That's why you need add nothing else to maintain your pet in excellent health, no escrapa, rationed table meat, or even milk.

Convenient and easy to serve—you'll find PARD DEHYDRATED as thrifty as ever And by feeding SWIFT'S PARD DEHYDRATED exclusively you save needed table

We have plenty of other fine food, such as Fresh Frozen Green Lima Beans, Fresh Frozen Strawberries, Fresh Frozen Peaches, Asparagus, Fresh Frozen Perch, also Fresh Coconuts, Diamond English Walnuts, Pecans, Delicious Apples, Oranges and Hendreds of other fine foods-we'll be seeing you.

CHRIST'S NEW COMMANDMENT

LESSON TEXT—Mark 12:28-34; John 13: 34, 35; 15:10-14. GOLDEN TEXT—A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.—John 13:34.

The "new commandment" of love which Christ gave was not new in the sense of then first being known, but new in its application (John 13:34). Only since Christ had come did men know how to love in truth.

This commandment of love was also first in time, being given before the Ten Commandments (see Lev. 19:18). Then, too, it declared the fundamental of all spiritual life, the first thing man needed to know, that God is love.

the first thing man needed to know, that God is love.

It also must take first place in man's thinking, for even as the Decalogue (Ten Commandments) is the heart of all moral law, so love for God and our fellow man is that which makes the Decalogue effective in our lives. Love and obedience go together (John 15:10).

Our lesson teaches us four things—1. Love God (Mark 12:28-30).

Because "God is love" (I John 4:8) He desires man's perfect love toward Him. Because the essence of His being is love, He loves us, and enables us to love Him.

There is more here than a commandment or the performing of a duty. There is the recognition of a controlling principle of all life. In a day of multiplication of powerful machines and organizations, when man is "power conscious" in an unusual way, it is well to recall that the greatest power in all the world is the power of love.

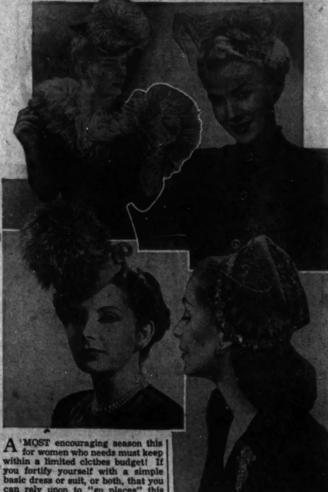

Then let us not forget that all true love should rest upon fellowship with God. It has no real foundation if it does not.

II. Love Your Neighbor (Mark 12:31-34).

Everything about our relationship to Christ and to God aversess.

LIVING COSTS:

While the War Labor board's "Little Steel" formula restricted wage increases to 15 per cent over the January, 1941, level, living costs have risen 23.4 per cent since then, according to figures of the department of labor.

originally, WLB awards were based on a 15 per cent increase in living costs from January, 1941, to September, 1942. Since September, September, 1942. Since September, 1942, however, there has been another 5.6 per cent rise, with labor demanding a corresponding reduction in living costs or higher wages to equalize the present condition.

Further, labor charged that the government figures on living costs were inaccurate, and the President appointed a special committee to look into the subject.

WORKING WOMEN: More Needed

With 16½ million wemen already at work, another million are needed to round out war production de-mands.

As of October, only 700,000 people remained unemployed, and with this sharp reduction in the number idle, it has been found necessary to call on women to fill in many jobs, especially in busy war production centers.

The extent to which women have been recruited for industry since the armament program got under way can be glimpsed by the fact that only 10,800,000 were working in Octo-ber, 1940.

CONGRESS:

Ban Subsidies

To the senate for approval went a house bill prohibiting payment of subsidies to reduce or maintain re-tail food prices and only allowing their use to stimulate agricultural thau.

Largest source of new revenue in the bill would be obtained from taxes on goods, such as beer, liquor, jewelry, luggage, bulbs and cosmetics, and from services such as telephones and telegraphs, amusements, transportation and club dues.

Adjustments in individual and corporate income taxes would provide substantial revenues, with approximately 600 million dollars being obtained from additional levies on business.

Local postal rates would be in-creased to three cents and charges would be raised on money orders and special deliveries.

PRESIDENT AND NEWSPRINT
Some of the President's newspaper friends who have been consistently for him over a long period of years are now suggesting that this is a good time to turn the other cheek regarding his constant feud with the press. They suggest that he personally could step into the current newsprint shortage and take a strong stand on an issue which seriously threatens one of the basic freedoms of the country—freedom of the press.

their use to stimulate agricultural production.

Championed by the administration as a means of keeping living costs down, retail subsidies were attacked in the house as inflationary, in that such savings to consumers only added to their purchasing power, and money borrowed for the purpose increased the national debt.

The administration is now spending approximately 800 million dollars annually on retail subsidies for meat, butter, milk, and other products. Under the house bill, subsidies would be continued only for domestic vegetable oils, fats and oil seeds.

In approving subsidy payments to stimulate production, the house voted to extend the life of the Commodity Credit corporation to June 30, 1945, and maintain its borrowing power at three billion dollars. CCC also was given permission to resell at a loss perishable fruits and vegetables bought to support prices.

Vote for Higher Taxes

Also to the senate went a house bill providing for 2½ billion dollars in additional taxes, far below the 10½ billion dollars requested by Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau.

Largest source of new revenue in the bill would be obtained from the largest source of new revenue in the bill would be obtained from the life of the commodity the problem, let newsprint any forthrightness to cut red ave been nibbling at the newsprint problem, but no one has stepped in with any forthrightness to cut red ave been nibbling at the newsprint problem, but no one has stepped in with any forthrightness to cut red ave been nibbling at the newsprint problem, but no one has stepped in with any forthrightness to cut red ave been nibbling at the newsprint problem, but no one has stepped in with any forthrightness to cut red ave been nibbling at the newsprint problem, but no one has stepped in with any forthrightness to cut red ave been nibbling at the newsprint problem, but now has develounded the newsprint and solve the problem. It now looks as if only the Nitte Alexandra from the house and solve the problem. It now looks as if only the newsprin pers may have to take terrific punishment.

3. Stricter supervision of cuts by throw-aways, dodgers, comic magazines and newsprint users who have not kept such accurate records of their past consumption. The newspaper industry has suffered by its past efficiency, having kept very accurate records.

4. More emphasis on the paper salvage campaign. At present, only 35 per cent of the nation's waste paper is being collected and salvaged. The waste paper reclaiming machinery is running at only 51 per cent of capacity. Approximately 6,000,000 tons of waste paper are normally collected and sold for paper board but now only two million.

The newspapers stepped in and did a great job of collecting scrap iron when the nation needed it, but now, when the newspapers need newsprint, they themselves are somewhat handicapped in blowing their horn.

What the White House will do re mains to be seen.

GOOD NEIGHBOR PEACE

Ten years ago, there was a very serious war between Bolivia and Paraguay in the jungles of the Gran Chaco. Last week, the presidents of Paraguay and Bolivia met at the border of the two countries in the Chaco, erected a large cross, and pledged themselves and their countries to everlasting peace.

The bitterness which animated these two South American countries has been wiped away, and they are Good Neighbors in every sense of the word.

Some diplomats hope this incident is a forecast that the bitterness actuating the enemies of World War II may likewise be eliminated after the passage of time.

publication of the inside story of the famous airplane carrier Hornet, written as a book, "A Ship to Remember," by Alexander Griffin of the Philadelphia Record.

For the first time it reveals the spectacular operation of the ship which carried General Doolittle's bombers within a stone's throw of Tokyo. Among other things, the navy okayed publication by Griffin of the fact that, at one time, the Hornet practically acted as a substitute for Henderson Field in the Solomons. That badly messed-up airport, on the night of October 14, 1942, had only five planes left and gasoline to send out only four. So the Hornet came alongside the island, threw her planes into action and, for 36 hours, substituted for Henderson Field.

Even more astonishing is the revealstion that, at one time during

The army estimates that 80 to 90 per cent of the wounded get first-aid treatment within an hour of being wounded. Ships are well equipped the larger ones as well as a hospital.

The man with a not too serious wound, and that is by far the majority of cases (amputations are included), has a splendid chance for recovery and a resumption of his natural existence in civil life when he is discharged.

In two categories this war has been harsher than any preceding. There is a greater proportion of killed in action to wounded. Also the mental casualties are higher in the present war.

Careful efforts have been made to

After the last war, some poetical minded writer penned an editori which had wide circulation entitle. "The Twilight of the Kings." Mar a throne had tumbled as a result that last conflict, names that we written large in history, faded unthey were less than memories—H henzollern, Hapsburg, Romanoff, n to mention a host of lesser majestie.

A young reserve officer friend of mine came up to say goodby to me a year and a half ago. He flattered me by asking for my advice before he went into active service.

I knew he wanted to see action. He had refused a desk job in Washington. I knew he wanted to do the job and get home to his wife and bables.

So I said: "Hope for a light wound and you'll hope for the best."

Of course, nobody would try to follow such advice but my friend got the wound (and a medal for bravery too) and now he's back in civvies

He doesn't like what the Jap bullet He doesn't like what the Jap bullet did to his leg for he'll play no more tennis or handball but his wife has a live, if lame, husband and his chil-dren have something beside a pic-ture and a piece of ribbon to call "daddy."

When I gave that sage advice, I didn't know how smart I was.

"The wounded soldier in this global war, though he is exposed to almost every health hazard known to man, still has a better chance of surviving and returning safely home than ever before," says Maj. Gen. Norman Kirk, surgeon-general of the army. the army.

The general gave three reasons: first, the use of blood plasma to avoid shock and hemorrhage; second, the use of sulfonamides to combat infection; and third, the mobility and organization of the medical services which insure prompt and efficient medical and surgical treatment.

I heard of widespread use of blood plasma first in the Spanish Civil war and imagine much valuable experi-ence was gained from that conflict. We know it was a proving ground for Nazi and Fascist killing and un-doubtedly the Allies profited by the efforts in life-saving as well.

Careful efforts have been made to screen out those showing characteristics indicating they are unable to stand up under the mental strain of modern warfare. More might have been held out of service if the psychiatrists had been able to carry out their plans. They would have been able to do so if there had been as thorough an understanding of that branch of medical science as there will be after the war. And because of that fact, more of the mental cases will be restored to normal.

The reason for the increased number of mental cases is variously explained; our troops have endured longer periods of offensive action than in the last war; the increased fury of modern warfare the domination of the machine, and also, to some degree, the complications of civilian life which encourage neurotic conditions.

The science of warfare has moved forward with seven-league boots. Killing has become a mass production affair. But along with the charlot of Mars, Mercury has advanced on winged feet and the healing arts have progressed to the point where for those who escape the scythe of the grim reaper there is a strong, helping hand along the road back. doubtedly the Allies profited by the efforts in life-saving as well.

The use of sulfa drugs is one of the great blessings which modern chemistry has given us. Recently I stood in one of the plants of the Monsanto Chemical company in St. Louis, Mo., letting the soft, healing powder drip through my fingers. Before me, in a space hardly 25 feet square, was a collection of small-kegs containing this wonderful antiseptic. There was enough within my easy reach to serve the whole Sicilian campaign, they told me. Each soldier has his packet and fills his wound with it. It stymies the germs until natural processes annihilate them.

The mobility of the medical units

The mobility of the medical units has been described in many dispatches and you have all seen photographs of the flying hospitals, the great air transports with their equipment and nurses. The wounded are rapidly returned to bases where they get the best of care. Treatment on naval vessels is equally effective.

are preventatives. They are what you "do with" until the doctor comes — more accurately, until you come to the doctor. Surgery is necessary in the cases of most wounds.

Capt. W. M. Craig, chief of surgery at the Naval Medical center, Bethesda, Md., just outside of Washington, puts it succinctly:

"In the last war, when a man's head was cut open by a shell fragment," says Captain Craig, "the surgeon had to operate at once, even though the patient was in such, a weakened condition that he hadn't one chance in a hundred to survive the operation. The surgeon had no other choice; he knew if he waited, infection would set in and that would be the end. In this war it is different; the patient is given blood plasma treatment to build him up, sulfato check infection, and if his conditions performed under ideal conditions.
